NOTIFICATION

Subject: Consultancy to develop training materials on science diplomacy related to global environmental change in the Americas

Dear Madam, Sir,

The IAI Directorate seeks a consultant team to develop training materials on science diplomacy related to global environmental change (GEC) in the Americas. These training materials should aim to enhance the capacity of professionals across the Americas to better understand science diplomacy processes and to contribute to the development of more effective public policies.

Key experts on the consulting team should have the following expertise:

- At least 7 years of professional experience with GEC science-policy in the Americas
- At least 5 years of experience developing and conducting training or related work on Science Diplomacy
- At least 3 years of experience developing and implementing curriculum and other training in a virtual learning environment.
- Knowledge of transdisciplinary research and approaches, preferably on GEC
- Experience working in or with Latin America and the Caribbean
- Fluency in English and Spanish, written and verbal

The IAI Directorate notes that the lead organization submitting the proposal must be from an IAI member country.

The request for an expression of interest and the terms of reference for the consultancy are attached to this notification. Both documents are also available on the IAI website at: <https://www.iai.int/en/post/detail/call-for-applicants>

Teams must first submit their expression of interest by completing a Google form (<https://forms.gle/a3xfYwaKHh3xvtHW7>). They should then send additional documentation (CVs and spreadsheet with team members) via email to: opportunities@dir.iai.int. In the body of the email, they should state the name of the lead applicant and provide their email address.

The IAI Directorate would be grateful if you could disseminate this information via your networks.

The IAI Directorate is grateful for the financial support received from the United States National Science Foundation which made possible this consultancy.

Please accept, Madam/Sir, the assurances of my highest consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Marcos Regis da Silva
Executive Director
