

MARÍA CARMONA

Helmholtz Center Geesthacht - Climate Service Center (CSC)

Germany

Degree in Pedagogy from University of Valencia (2006). Graduate on Mediation in Socio-Educational Intervention (2007). Experience working with conflicting group, and experience working on analyzing education moral values in different social strata with social projects.

Currently working on the design of capacity development programs for climate change adaptation at the Climate Service Center in Hamburg (Germany) an institution of the Helmholtz Center Geesthacht. Additionally making research on the potential of social learning for facing climate change.