I graduate in Geography, study this specialty in the Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos, Lima. I am currently a Research Assistant I, at the Geophysical Institute of Peru, entered this institution in 2010 as a thesis student, where I conducted research on the impact of low temperatures on the health of children under five years-in the Achamayo Basin River, department of Jenin. Also from earlier this year conducted an analysis of the effects of extreme events (including external geodynamics) and social analysis in the Rimac River Basin. I'd love to participate in the Training Institute on Adaptive Management of Water Resources on Climate Change in watersheds - La Serena – 2012.
