

FROM SCIENCE TO POLICY

Achieving the SDGs in a 1.5 degree warmer world

ipcc 1.5°

EVENT AGENDA

- 13:15-13:17 Opening
Ione Anderson, IAI & Bettina Schmalzbauer, German Committee Future Earth
- 13:17-13:30 IPCC SR15: linking 2030 Agenda & Paris Agreement
Thelma Krug, Vice-Chair IPCC
- 13:30-14:00 Remarks
 - Climate action and sustainable development
Jean-Pascal van Ypersele, Member of the independent group of scientists of GSDR 2019
 - Climate impacts and reduced risks of 1.5°C of specific regions
Daniela Jacob, Chapter Lead Author IPCC SR15
 - Climate resilient development and IPCC SR15
Douglas Leys, General Counsel Green Climate Fund

- 14:00-14:40 Panel discussion: what cooperative actions are needed to better align the goals of Paris Agreement with the SDGs?

*Thelma Krug, IPCC
Douglas Leys, Green Climate Fund
Daniela Jacob, IPCC
Jean-Pascal van Ypersele, GSDR
Xiaohua Zhang, UNOSSC*
- 14:40-14:45 Conclusion, special announcement & way forward

What are the effects of a changing climate on the economy, health and environment under 1.5°C compared to 2°C? What cooperative actions are needed to better communicate, mitigate and reduce risks? How do we finance climate resilient development?

The event will be forward-thinking and stimulate discussion about the outcomes of the IPCC Special report on Global Warming of 1.5 °C (SR15) and the upcoming Global Sustainable Development Report (GSDR) of the United Nations in 2019.

Tuesday
04.12.2018
13:15 – 14:45
Room Wisla

