

ANA MARIA LOBOGUERRERO

Departamento Nacional de Planeación
Colombia

Ana María Loboguerrero works in the Sustainable Environmental Development Deputy Directorate of the National Planning Department of Colombia as the coordinator of Climate Change since 2009. At this position, she has led the formulation of the Colombian Climate Change Policy, the National Adaptation Plan and the research agenda on climate change. Ana Maria received her BA and MA in Economics from Universidad de Los Andes in Colombia and her MA and PhD in Economics from UCLA, 2008. She has worked at the Central Bank of Colombia and the Inter-American Development Bank. She was a Professor of Economics at UCLA, Universidad de Los Andes, Universidad Javeriana and Universidad del Rosario. Currently she is teaching Economics of Climate Change at Universidad de Los Andes. Ana Maria has participated in several climate change events including the Climate Change and its Impacts Brown International Advanced Research Institute and The Economics of Climate Change Workshop at University of Cambridge. In 2011, Ana Maria participated in the NEXUS Fulbright Program with a project related to the Economics of Climate Change for Colombia which included a three months research visit to the International Research Institute for Climate and Society at Columbia University.