

JOSE LUIS SANTOS

Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral
Ecuador

He was born in Guayaquil, Ecuador, October 21st 1960. He obtained his Ph.D. in Atmospheric Sciences from the Georgia Institute of Technology of Atlanta, USA in 1995; in 2000 he got a Masters in business Administration from the University of Tulane, New Orleans, USA; He got his Msc. In Oceanography at the University of Rhode Island, Narragansett, USA in 1986; and his B.Sc in Oceanography from Escuela Politécnica del Litoral (ESPOL), Ecuador in 1984.

He has been Professor/Researcher at the Marine Sciences and Maritime Engineering Department (FIMCBOR) from ESPOL, since 1989, He also was Vice Dean of FIMCBOR, and the Director of the Institute of Science and Technological Research at ESPOL. He has been a member of the National Academy of Sciences of Ecuador since 1997. He was the Director of the International Research Center on El Niño (CIIFEN) between 2002-2005.

He has directed/participated in several international projects funded by: Organization of American States, Belgium Council of Flemish Universities, National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration, Inter American Development Bank, Inter American Institute for Global Change research, among others. He has published more than 24 diffusion and scientific articles in National and International journals.