

Gabrielle Rabelo Quadra
Federal University of Juiz de Fora
Brazil

Gabrielle is graduated in Biological Sciences at the Federal University of Juiz de Fora – UFJF (2010-2014). In 2015, she started her master's degree in Applied Ecology at the Management and Conservation of Natural Resources at UFJF, acting at Aquatic Ecology Laboratory (LEA) of the Institute of Biological Sciences - ICB / UFJF. Her dissertation is with heavy metal contamination in Brazilian reservoirs. Besides that, she takes part in a project of monitoring the water quality of a patch of Paraibuna river.