

Jan Willem Erisman
University Amsterdam
Netherlands

Jan Willem Erisman is CEO of the Louis Bolk Institute, a mid-sized knowledge institute in the area of organic and truly sustainable agriculture, nutrition and health. He is professor at the VU University Amsterdam on Integrated Nitrogen Studies. He has a background in atmospheric environmental research specifically atmosphere - biosphere exchange of gases and aerosols related to acidification and eutrophication and climate change, scientific, policy development and evaluation studies. His work has focused on optimizing food production and energy use while minimizing its environmental and climate impacts through improvement of the nitrogen use efficiency.