

Osmarina Alves Marinho
Centre for Nuclear Energy in Agriculture (CENA) / USP
Brazil

I am a current master's student at Applied Ecology Program. I have been working with terrestrial ecology since graduation with emphasis in plant biology. Nowadays my field of interest is nutrients cycling and global changes. The main topic of my master's project is litter decomposition in terrestrial and my further intention is to get involve with studies in marine ecology, climate changes and biogeochemistry cycles.