

CARL BAUER
University of Arizona
USA

Carl Bauer is Associate Professor in the School of Geography and Development, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ, where he also directs the Graduate Certificate in Water Policy. Bauer teaches and does research about comparative and international water law and policy, taking an interdisciplinary approach that combines law, geography, and political economy. He was formerly a researcher at Resources for the Future, in Washington, DC, and he has been a consultant to numerous international organizations. His regional expertise is in Latin America and the Western United States. Bauer has a Ph.D. in Law and Social Policy from the University of California-Berkeley Law School, an M.S. in Geography from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and a B.A. in Geology from Yale University.