

CLAUDIA LARDIZABAL

National Autonomous University of Honduras
Honduras

A biologist with a master degree in Integrated Watershed Management from de Higher Education Agronomical and Tropical Research Center (CATIE) in Costa Rica, has worked several years at the Biology Department as a Watershed Management specialist in the National Autonomous University of Honduras. At the same time she has worked as a Watershed Management Specialist in the Postgraduate division, coordinating the Masters degree program for Watershed Management scheduled to open this year. She has also been awarded to grants for hydrology related research, that deal with hydrologic balance calculation and modelling using IPCC scenarios.