

DANIEL CASTILLO BRIEVA
Pontificia Universidad Javeriana
Colombia

Daniel Castillo is an Associate Professor and researcher in the School of Environmental and Rural Studies at Javeriana University (Bogotá, Colombia). He also is the Research Director of the University at the Vice-presidency of Research. He teaches undergraduate and graduate courses of “System Dynamics”, “Social dimensions of the environment”, and “Socio Ecological Systems Analysis”. He holds a PhD in Human, Economic and Regional Geography (Université Paris Ouest Nanterre La Défense, France), a M.Phil in Systems Dynamics (Bergen University, Norway), and a Bachelor in Geology (Universidad Nacional de Colombia). His research topics cover institutional analysis, collective action problems in socio-ecological systems and governance of common pool resources. He uses different methodological approaches such as experimental economics, role playing games, simulation modeling and the combination of qualitative and quantitative approaches. He has been visiting scholar in the “The Vincent and Elinor Ostrom Workshop in Political Theory and Policy Analysis” (Indiana University, Bloomington), the “Center for the Study of Institutional Diversity” (CSID) (Arizona State University, USA) the “French Center for Agricultural Research for Development” (CIRAD), the Department of Natural Resources Economics (University of Massachusetts, Amherst, USA), the University of Brasilia (Brasil), “El Colegio de La Frontera Sur” (Chiapas, Mexico) and Boğaziçi University (Istanbul, Turkey).