

GIOVANNA AMPARO EGAS TAPIA

Unión Internacional para la Conservación de la Naturaleza

Bolivia

Geographer with studies in Geomatics, Hydrology, Analysis of Climate data. Experience over 10 years on spatial planning in rural places; soil, water and vegetation studies on the Andes highlands. The last two years, she is involved on integrated management of water resources in Andean basins in the southern and northern of Peru. Recently involved on transboundary water governance projects among Peru and Bolivia by promoting binational technicians groups to improve hydrometeorological data knowledge and development of information systems to IWRM.